Mapping your N: drive from a Mac

You can access your N: drive remotely from a Macintosh computer by using the following steps:

1) Ensure that you have configured and are connected to the VPN.

2) In the top left corner of the screen, click 'Go' and then 'Connect to Server':

3) Enter `smb://filer1.birkbeck.ac.uk/username` in the 'Connect to Server' box that appears, replacing `username` with your own username. Click the 'Connect' button when ready:
4) Select 'Registered User' and enter ccsacademic\username along with your password in the box which appears:

5) Press the 'Connect' button when finished. Your N: drive should appear.
