Timothy Newling Fund

Department of Earth and Planetary Sciences
Birkbeck, University of London

A generous donation from a former student Mr Timothy J Newling has allowed us to establish a fund to provide students with financial assistance with fieldwork and travel for scholarly purposes.

Applicants should be enrolled on a BSc, or postgraduate (PhD, MPhil, or Masters) at the Department of Earth and Planetary Sciences, Birkbeck College.

Applicants should complete the accompanying application form and return it to the Head of Department, Prof Gerald Roberts.

Applicants must confirm that they meet the established income limits that are in place for both UG and PG bursaries - to demonstrate that they are in financial need.

These can be found here for UG: http://www.bbk.ac.uk/mybirkbeck/finance/studentfinance/ug_finance/bsob/bsob_eligibility_criteria and here for PG students: http://www.bbk.ac.uk/mybirkbeck/finance/studentfinance/pgt_finance/pg_bsob/eligibility-criteria

Applicants must provide:

- A title for the proposed study.

- A summary of the aims and objectives of the study and how the proposed work will help them to achieve these objectives.

- A justification of the resources that they require to complete the study.

- The planned dates for the work.

- A breakdown of the costs e.g. travel costs, attendance costs etc.

- Signature of their study supervisor.

Applications will be awarded based on assessment of the academic rigour of the proposal alongside evidence of need and academic achievement to date.
