BA Language and/with International Law
(full time, three year programme)

Programme Structure:

The BA Language and/with International Law programme is taught jointly by the Department of Cultures and Languages and the School of Law.

All students on the programme must complete 360 credits to obtain a degree. Students on the full time programme are normally expected to complete this in the pattern of 120 credits per year for THREE years. Students on this programme must normally take 180 credits from the Department of Cultures and Languages and 180 credits from the School of Law.

Students that exit the degree at *CEFR Level C2 (Language 5) will be awarded a BA French (or German, Portuguese, Spanish) and International Law degree. Students that exit the degree at CEFR Level B2 (Language 3) or CEFR Level C1 (Language 4) will be awarded a BA International Law with French (or German, Portuguese, Spanish) degree. Students that exit the degree at JLPT Level N2 (Language 5) will be awarded a BA Japanese and International Law degree. Students that exit the degree at JLPT Level N4-N3 (Language 3) or JLPT Level N3-N2 (Language 4) will be awarded a BA International Law with Japanese degree.

* Common European Framework of Reference for languages

 Japanese Language Proficiency Test
