15	Entry Criteria
	Portfolio of 5000 words of original writing (Fiction or Creative Non-Fiction) that demonstrates a high literary standard
	Two academic/professional references
16	Learning Outcomes
	For MA Creative Writing graduates who wish to return to university, or for writers already producing work of a high literary standard, the MFA will offer intensive teaching and one-to-one supervision from our faculty of published authors.
	The students will be Part-Time, attending all core modules in the first year: the Advanced Fiction Workshop in the Autumn; the Reading & Writing the Contemporary seminar in the Spring (with contributions from the academic faculty); the Craft of Fiction Lecture Series in the Summer.
	In the second year, students will write-up their dissertations with one-to-one supervision support from our Creative Writing faculty. The dissertation leading to the MFA award will be no less than 40,000 words and the student will be given strong support in shaping this work to a standard where it may be offered to literary agents.
	There will be opportunities to gain editorial experience assisting with Birkbeck's literary magazine, The Mechanics Institute Review (now in its twelfth year) and our website, Writers Hub that updates its content every week.
	Further learning outcomes:
	 Enable students to develop their skills as writers of fiction.
	 Deepen students' awareness of form and elements of the writer's craft.
	 Provide students with opportunities to interact regularly with fellow writers.
	 Develop students' skills of self-evaluation and constructive analysis of the work of others.
	 Enable students to develop skills in editing and revising their own writing.
	 Develop students' awareness of the industry-standard expectations for their creative work.
	 Broaden students' knowledge and critical judgment of the histories, conventions, and processes of fiction
	• Encourage students to investigate fiction from a diverse range of cultures and how these works might inform and inspire their own writing.
17	Learning, teaching and assessment methods
	Learning on the MFA begins in the workshop environment of the Advanced Writing Workshop, then developed through the Reading and Writing the Contemporary Seminar. However, the core of the MFA are the one-on-one dissertation tutorials. In these, personal guidance will be given to students by a tutor they will select during the first semester. The Craft of Writing Lecture Series offers a more formal lecture-based module.

21	Student Attendance Framework – in brief

The full version of the 'Student Attendance Framework' is available http://www.bbk.ac.uk/mybirkbeck/services/rules/Attendance-Framework.pdf.

Principle

Consistent and regular student attendance in class (or equivalent) promotes and affords student success. Inconsistent and irregular attendance is less likely to result in student success and is consistent with lower marks and degree classifications being achieved and awarded.

Attendance expectation

Birkbeck, University of London expects you to consistently attend all timetabled sessions, including lectures, seminars, group and individual tutorials, learning support sessions, workshops, laboratories, field trips, inductions and demonstrations.

E-Registers

All Birkbeck students are issued with student cards. Students are expected to take them to classes and to assessment venues and to present them to a member of staff if requested. This is for the purpose of identifying Birkbeck students.

²² Student Support and Guidance

All Birkbeck students have access to a range of student support services, details can be found on our website here: http://www.bbk.ac.uk/student-services

²³ Methods of Enhancing Quality and Standards

The College has rigorous procedures in place for the monitoring and enhancing its educational provision. This includes regular monitoring of programmes drawing on feedback from various sources including external examiner's reports, student feedback, student achievement and progression data. In addition, departments are reviewed every four to five years through the internal review process that includes external input.
